PERSONAL INFORMATION

An Entrepreneur from Kolkata. A Startup Enthusiast. I have built my very new own startup named 'TheoreX' which is E-Learning & Engagement Based Startup. I built TheoreX keeping in mind one thing that it will increase the employability level in the market for aspiring Engineers and Tech-Lovers and other educational fields too. I am a Doer, no a Dreamer, whatever I want to execute, I try to finish off with the same within the deadline and I love to maintain schedule daily! Not a giving up mentality!

Besides that, a Wikimedia Developer, a Mozilla Representative from India pursued B. Tech degree course in Information Technology at Techno India, Kolkata. My focus always has been on aspiring technologies, innovative thinking and to learn new things more and more. As an active volunteer, I have always organized sessions and workshops for students on technologies which are not covered in university curriculum at all and also I try to motivate them to do something on their own.

I like to learn by exploring & take active interest in modifying configurations of different fields in order to get a better understanding. I enjoy going through tech blogs, Entrepreneurial Blog and sharing knowledge via social media & other connections.
